

SLAC eShop

Supply Chain Management (SCM) is reintroducing eShop, SLAC’s online marketplace! eShop is the recommended purchasing method at SLAC for applicable equipment and materials. Using eShop saves time and money, and provides a fast, efficient on-line source for searching and for purchasing a wide variety of products at SLAC-negotiated prices.

Here is the current schedule of key milestones from now until eShop goes “live”:

- Development 07Feb11 - 06Apr11
- User Acceptance Testing 11Apr11 - 05May11
- Production Preparation 18Apr11 - 13May11
- Instructor-led eShop training 18Apr11 - 21Apr11
- Live “pilot” test launch 16May11
- SLAC-wide release of the new SLAC *eShop 06Jun11

Gordon Scrimger, SCM eShop Manager, will present live eShop training in the Kavli Auditorium. Eight eShop training sessions are scheduled from April 18 through 21 with morning and afternoon time slots to fit your busy schedules.

Please contact Niyati Dadhich (x5523 or Niyati@slac.stanford.edu) to sign-up for your preferred eShop training session.

By using eShop, you and SLAC benefit through:

- User-friendly shopping experience
- Increased user satisfaction
- Increased self service
- One-stop shopping
- Easily retrievable on-line pricing information
- Reduced need for other purchasing methods like PeopleSoft purchase orders and the SLAC Purchase Card (PCard)
